SuperSoil 2004, 3rd Australian and New Zealand Soil Science Societies joint conference

This statement is intended to comply with the requirements of the DEST Publications Data Collection process

SuperSoil 2004, 3rd Australian and New Zealand Soil Science Societies joint conference, was held at the University of Sydney from 5-9 December 2004. The refereed proceedings of the conference was published on CD and on the conference website - <http://www.regional.org.au/au/asssi/supersoil2004/>

The technical program of the conference included six international and domestic keynote speakers, 184 oral presentations and over 96 poster presentations. Up to six concurrent sessions ran at anyone time, with one plenary session each day. The manuscripts submitted for publication in the conference proceedings were processed through a formal review process by the Editorial Committee given below. Each paper was reviewed by two referees and the Symposium Chair also considered every single paper. The authors were required to modify their papers in line with referees comments and some papers were rejected by referees.

The Editorial Committee consisted of the following experienced professionals:
